Footloose Director's Message:

When I am asked to direct a show, I asked myself... “why this show? Why this time?” I was asked to direct Footloose in early 2020 when we, in the arts, were having a great year. In my position at Scottsdale Center for the Performing Arts, we were excited! Shows were selling like crazy. We were exceeding our goals and we were looking toward a huge spring series with lots of amazing performances.

Footloose, a show that, on the surface, celebrates dancing and letting go and having fun seemed a good fit. Then the Pandemic hit, and the show had to wait almost a full year. People retreated inside and connected virtually. The arts struggled. Virtual options were provided, but they lacked that communal experience that only live events can bring.

When it was time to look at Footloose again it was with a different lens. Footloose is know as a big dance show; but it is much more than that. Footloose is about dealing with pain and loss. It is about finding ways to work through grief.

Just as we are coming out of a pandemic, the townspeople of Bomont are coming out of a tragedy of their own. Their solution—to pull back—to keep everyone from even the potential of doing those things that led to tragedy. To protect the town/ each other, they hurt themselves more. In the end they all emerge, enjoy communal experiences again and begin to reconnect.

Working on Footloose at Starlight also allowed that story to be able to shine. The theater is small but mighty. The intimacy of the space lends itself to a strong focus on the whole story of Footloose without the risk that the story gets engulfed in huge set pieces and giant dance numbers. It is an opportunity to direct the show like a film. Paring down the scenes as much as possible; not adding a lot of people to numbers that do not really require it.

Cyd and I work together to ensure the choreography is part of that—never losing site of the story being told in the scene. It is one of the many reasons I truly love working with her. She is a true partner with me in many projects. Elisa joined us and worked with the actors to make sure they understood their characters vocally as well.

Thank you so much to the Starlight team for giving me this opportunity. Thank you to the actors in this show who, from the very first rehearsal, were willing to try everything we threw at them. They have worked hard and now it is time for them to get out there and share that work and their excitement about this show with you.

Originally from Denver, Colorado, she has lived and performed all across the country, as well as on the oceans aboard the Disney Magic. Her voice can be heard as Princess Petunia in the animated cartoon series, VeggieTales (2005-2015). Cydney was in the Off Broadway company, Golf, The Musical, and has been seen performing across the Valley at Phoenix Theatre, Arizona Theatre Company, Symphony Hall and ABT, to name a few. Cydney's best-loved role is Mom to her beautiful 13-year-old daughter, Marlee Gray. Do what you love!

Joshua Merrill (Stage Manager) - Joshua is excited to be stage managing this show. For this only being his second time, he is enjoying the new learning experience. You may have seen him recently as Leaf Coneybear in Putnam County Spelling Bee here at Starlight and is very thankful for working with this cast and crew. He'd like to thank Meribeth and Cydney for giving him this chance for a new experience. Everybody cut Footloose!

Heather Riddle (Costume, Hair & Makeup Design) - Heather is a stay-at-home mom of 5, wife, part time nurse, piano teacher and business owner. She has costume designed many productions around the valley and is thankful for this opportunity to work with such an amazing cast and production team. She is also grateful for her super supportive husband and kids who encourage her and whom she loves incredibly much.

Michelle Johnston (Set Painter & Dresser) - Michelle has been a part of Starlight for over 7 years now when she painted her first set for Beauty and the Beast. When not designing enchanted woods or stately living rooms she's managing her team of investigators at MUFGB Union Bank. She's been in financial crimes for over 20 yrs and retired from the US Army reserves in 2016 after 26yrs of service.

Troy Courtois (Sound Design & Board Operator) – I have been working sound production on staged shows for 40+ years. This is my fourth year with Starlight and I'm excited to be a part of Footloose.
